Round 3 : July 16 (Saturday)–July 17 (Sunday)

2016 Japanese SUPER FORMULA Championship: Fuji Speedway

Japan Race Promotion Inc. (President: Akira Kurashita, Head office: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo, Japan) today announced details of Round 3 of the 2016 Japanese SUPER FORMULA Championship Series, scheduled to take place on July 16–17 at the Fuji Speedway Racing Course (length = 4.563km) in Shizuoka Prefecture, Japan.

The 2016 Japanese SUPER FORMULA Championship Series is the only internationally accredited driver championship in Asia, run over seven rounds and six circuits across Japan. A total of 11 teams (entrants) and 19 drivers (cars) from Japan and overseas* are competing to win this year's series.

* 12 drivers from Japan and seven from five other countries: UK (2), India (1), Germany (1), Brazil (1) and Belgium (2)

Round 3 of the series will be run over 55 laps of the Fuji Speedway Racing Course (length = 4.563km) for a total distance of 250.965km.

Round 2 of the 2016 Japanese SUPER FORMULA Championship Series was held at Okayama International Circuit. Due to heavy rain, the race started behind the safety car, but with no prospect of any improvement in weather conditions, the track marshal red flagged the race at the end of the 8th lap, bringing the event to a premature close. Hiroaki Ishiura (P.MU/CERUMO • INGING), who started on pole, stayed in front to secure victory, followed by Koudai Tsukakoshi (REAL RACING) in second and Takuya Izawa (REAL RACING) in third. The race marked the first time REAL RACING has had two drivers on the podium. Key drivers in Round 3 will be Hiroaki Ishiura, on the hunt for a second straight win, and Joao Paulo de Oliveira (ITOCHU ENEX TEAM IMPUL), the winner of this race last season. Other drivers to watch include Kazuki Nakajima (VANTELIN TEAM TOM'S) and Kamui Kobayashi (SUNOCO TEAM LEMANS), both accomplished drivers who could recover from a disappointing start to the season, and Stoffel Vandoorne (DOCOMO TEAM DANDELION RACING), winner of the first race and a good prospect for another podium finish.

No. 1 Hiroaki Ishiura (P.MU/CERUMO • INGING) secured his first win of the season in Round 2 at the Okayama International Circuit.

GET TO KNOW THE BASICS

■ WHAT IS SUPER FORMULA?

Japanese SUPER FORMULA Championship Series is the top category of Japanese formula racing featuring purpose-built racing cars with single-seat, open cockpit and open wheel. Organized by Japan Race Promotion Inc. and fully sanctioned by the Japan Automobile Federation (JAF), SUPER FORMULA traces back its origins to the Japanese Championship Formula NIPPON first launched in 1996. 2013 saw the relaunch of the series given a new name of SUPER FORMULA.

■ CHAMPIONSHIP

The 2016 Japanese SUPER FORMULA Championship Series is the only internationally accredited driver championship in Asia, run over seven rounds and six circuits across Japan. A total of 11 teams (entrants) and 19 drivers (cars) from Japan and overseas* are competing to win this year's series.

* 12 drivers from Japan and seven from five other countries: UK (2), India (1), Germany (1), Brazil (1) and Belgium (2)

2016 CHAMPIONSHIP POINT SCORING SYSTEM

POSITION	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th & beyond	PP
1 race round	10	8	6	5	4	3	2	1	0	1
2 races round Race 1	5(+3)	4	3	2.5	2	1.5	1	0.5	0	1
2 races round Race 2	5(+3)	4	3	2.5	2	1.5	1	0.5	0	1

- * PP=Pole Position (a driver who set the fastest lap in the qualifying session). One point is awarded to the pole sitter (only to the driver but not to the team).
- * In the 2-race rounds, half points are awarded for both Race 1 & Race 2.
- * In the 2-race rounds, three extra points are awarded to each race winner of Race 1 & Race 2 (i.e. up to a maximum of 18 points are awarded to the driver who claimed pole position and wins of both Race 1 & Race 2).
- * In case two or more drivers/teams are in a dead heat for a championship standing at the end of the season, the driver/team with the higher number of superior race results is awarded the position.

■ CHAMPIONSHIP AWARDS

The Drivers' Championship title is awarded to the driver who scores the most points over the course of the season. The Driver Champion is given the Series Driver's Champion Cup and prize money by Japan Race Promotion Inc. On top of this, he receives the Confederation's Cup offered by Parliamentary Association for Motorsport Promotion of the Liberal Democratic Party of Japan, as well as the Commissioner's Cup from the Japan Tourism Agency. Towards the Team Champion, the Minister's Cup will be awarded by the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry, plus prize money by Japan Race Promotion Inc.

■ RACE CAR

Chassis

Since 2014, SUPER FORMULA race cars have used the SF14 chassis, which is made by Italian company Dallara and is based on the "quick and light" design concept. Leveraging the characteristics of this "quick and light" chassis, SUPER FORMULA race cars are capable of cornering speeds higher than those in Formula One. The adoption of the SF14 chassis has led to a dramatic improvement in the quality of races, leading to greater interest in SUPER FORMULA overseas.

Engine

Honda and Toyota, two of Japan's leading automakers, have developed engines for SUPER FORMULA based on the NRE engine concept^{*1}, which is part of automaker efforts to develop next-generation engines. SUPER FORMULA cars are currently powered by the Honda HR-414E or the Toyota R14A.

All engines are fitted with fuel flow restrictors. By setting fuel flow limits, the key to winning races is how efficiently fuel can be converted into power. Competitive development between automakers has resulted in a highly efficient engine with higher brake specific fuel consumption (BSFC) and net thermal efficiency than hybrid vehicles currently on the market, helping to advance the development of next-generation engines.

*1 NRE engine specifications

Honda, Toyota and Nissan together agreed on a number of criteria for race engines that incorporate environmental technology while also preserving the excitement of motor sport.

- Cylinder configuration : Inline-four
- Displacement : 2,000cc + turbo
- Fuel intake system : Direct injection
- Fuel flow limits : 95kg/h for Suzuka and Fuji Speedway circuits, 90kg/h for other circuits

Overtaking System

SUPER FORMULA introduced an overtaking system (OTS) in 2009 as part of initiatives to make races more exciting. SUPER FORMULA was the first competition in the world to adopt this system.

The OTS encourages drivers to make more overtaking maneuvers, one of the most exciting parts of motorsport.

The SF14 OTS system uses the fuel flow restrictor fitted to engines to temporarily increase fuel flow to the engine, boosting power^{*2}. Drivers use a button on the steering wheel to activate the system for 20 seconds up to five times each race. Overtaking lamps (OTL) on the roll hoop indicate when the system is in use, allowing spectators to see when drivers have activated their OTS.

The racing driver with the most Championship points has the distinction of an OTL with red lamps, called "leader's red."

*2 Overtaking system specifications

- Mechanism : Activating the overtaking system boosts fuel flow by 10kg/h
- Impact : Activating the overtaking system increases engine output by around 60PS, or 10%
- Rules : Drivers are allowed to use the system up to five times per race for 20 seconds each time.

Tires

Yokohama Rubber became the sole tire supplier this season. The company has not been involved in top-flight motorsport in Japan since 1996, a hiatus of 20 years. Yokohama Rubber's ADVAN racing tires perform well against SUPER FORMULA's rigorous criteria for grip, durability and safety, adding to the excitement of race events.

■ OFFICIAL QUALIFYING KNOCK-OUT STYLE

Qualifying will be based on a knockout format, with each team (driver) given one lap in a set time segment to secure their fastest lap of the Fuji Speedway (length = 4.563km).

Qualifying will take place over three knock-out sessions to determine places on the starting grid for the Championship race. In the event of 19 entries, the five slowest cars during the 20-minute long Q1 session will be knocked out of the next session and assigned the 15th to 19th positions on the grid. After a 10-minute interval, the 7-minute long Q2 session will determine the 9th to 14th positions in the same way. After another 10-minute interval, the final 7-minute long Q3 session will decide the top 8 positions on the starting grid. As the name of the qualifying round suggests, drivers are knocked out if they do not post strong qualifying times.

■ RACE

Fuji Speedway (Circuit length 4.563km): 55 laps / total distance 250.965km.

*1 The 15th JAF GRAND PRIX SUZUKA

*2 Round 5 at AUTOPOLIS has been canceled due to the Kumamoto earthquake. Event organizers at the alternative venue, Okayama International Circuit, are currently applying to the Japan Automobile Federation (JAF) to register the rescheduled Round 5 in the race calendar.

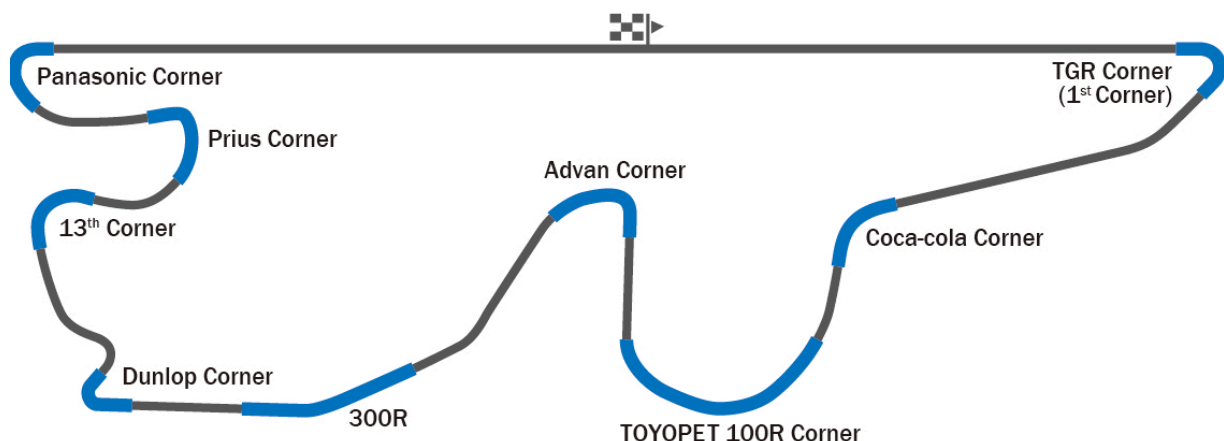

■ Fuji Speedway Racing Course

Fuji Speedway is a historic circuit currently marking its 50th anniversary.

The circuit is known for having one of the longest straights in motorsport, at 1.475km. Car speed changes dramatically as drivers exit the final Panasonic corner, creating an ideal spot to watch exciting overtaking maneuvers using drafting. After the speed of the main straight, brake timing is crucial to entering the first TGR corner ahead of other drivers.

From the ADVAN corner through to the double-apex 300R corner, race car set up has a major impact on speed as drivers enter the Dunlop corner. The stretch from the Dunlop corner chicane through to corner 13 and the Prius corner is different to other high-speed sections of the course, requiring skilful use of the accelerator. Exit speed from the final Panasonic corner also has a major impact on the speed of the car in the home straight, so drivers need to carefully find the shortest line through the curve.
